THIS DAY IN HISTORY...

According to one calendar, William Howard Taft on this date was laid in state in the Rotunda in the national capitol.

This is the kind of stuff newspapers fill out columns with. We've even run into people who read the fillers as much if not more than regular news in some editions.

And more and more, calendar manufacturers put bits of Americana or dates of discovery and war below the numbered days.

We are 112. That's the reason for the column title change. Don't know whether that will ever make somebody's calendar. But it does make us one year older.

Ceilings Replaced At Ada Henderson School

Ceiling work on the second floor of Ada Henderson School has been completed and an Austin architectural engineer will do a complete study of the building this week according to D. R. Dodson, Supt. of Schools.

Dodson said plaster ceilings in three classrooms and two second floor hallways had been removed and replaced by suspended ceilings after a ceiling collapsed in a second floor classroom the weekend of March 6.

Other ceilings were checked by a local builder and found to be either of sheetrock or steel lathing and plaster that was wire-tied to steel girders.

South and north side hallways on the second floor were only partially replaced, Dodson said. He said plaster remaining in the hallways was found to be safe.

John C. Allen, architectural engineer from Austin, has been authorized to make a complete study of the 46 year old building where third, fourth and fifth grade classes meet. "We believe that the building is architecturally sound," Dodson said, "but we want to be sure."

The collapsed ceiling was found by custodians Monday morning (March 8) shortly before school opened. Classes continued in the building Monday and Tuesday with only one class moved to Ben Milam School while the collapsed ceiling was replaced. Following complaints by a group of parents, school officials closed the Ada Henderson school on Wednesday and made a complete check of ceilings in the building.

Classes resumed Thursday although one of the building's two stairways was closed while workmen removed ceilings in two other classrooms and the hallways.

93° High Breaks Mark In March, Not Drouth

Track Records May Fall Here Saturday

Records are expected to topple here Saturday when 19 teams compete in the 36th annual Cameron Relays, with strong contenders, including a State champion, signed up for the event.

One of the biggest threats to Cameron relay records is Sherman Graves of Groesbeck, Yoe Head coach Hal Stanislaw said this week. Graves won the top 220 spot in State last year.

"He could run at the 100 and 220 marks," Stanislaw said, "and he and his team mates could break Cameron's 440 yard relay mark."

A 9.9 record for the 100 yard dash was set in 1954 and tied in '62 and '66. Taylor holds the sprint relay record at 43.0.

Groesbeck won State in sprint relay last year and have two men returning on that team this year, Stanislaw noted.

The 330 intermediate hurdle record of 42.5 set by Glen Fogle of Cameron in 1968 "is sure to be broken in the preliminaries" by Horace Burns of Giddings, Shifton Baker of Elgin, or Richard Cummings of Cameron, Stanislaw said. All three have run the 330 in under 41.0 flat, he added.

Robinson boasts Randy McMullen, who ran the 880 yard dash in 1:58.4 at Rockdale last week -- he could break the 2:03 record set by Baugh of Midway in 1955, Coach Stanislaw said.

Some of the strongest teams are expected to come from Groesbeck, Giddings and Northwest, which won the Decatur meet last week, and is reported to have a strong field.

Other strong contenders are Rosebud, Teague, and Midway.

BUCKHOLTS BOY SCOUTS

Boy Scout Troop 717 of Buckholts will have its first Court of Honor on Sunday, March 21 at 7 p.m. in the Hope Lutheran Church Educational Building. The public is invited.

Schools competing here Saturday will include Reicher, McGregor, Giddings, Midway, Killeen, Groesbeck, Rosebud, Lott, Elgin, Teague, Georgetown, Robinson, Northwest, Leon, Centerville, Bremond, Buckholts and Allen Academy.

Preliminaries get underway Saturday at 12:30 p.m. with discus, pole vault, high jump, and broad jump. Finals for these events will be held immediately after the prelims.

Weekend Waste Disposal Plan Is Successful

Cameron residents are cooperating with the city sanitation department to provide weekend and evening waste disposal, according to Supt. James Hale.

The city is providing trucks for disposal of waste on weekends and evenings for the convenience of residents. The trucks are parked at the maintenance barn and are marked for garbage and brush.

Hale said the arrangement is "working real well -- people are putting their trash into the right trucks, and many are using plastic bags for their wet garbage and trash, too. This is really good, since it keeps the waste from blowing out."

He asked that residents try to put their loose paper in some sort of bag or container, since quite a bit blew out of the open trucks last weekend.

The trucks are left at the maintenance barn for waste disposal in the evenings until dark, and on weekends. The barn is easily reached from Highway 77 by turning south on the road between the radio station and the self-service gas station.

Thunderstorms Skip Area; Dry Spell Continues

A record period of high temperatures, wind and no rain continues to plague area farmers, but County Agent J. D. Moore said the situation was not considered critical at this point.

Temperatures soared to 93 degrees Saturday, matching 90 plus temperatures recorded in normally cold months of January and February.

Thunderstorms that rumbled over the area last week sprinkled a few drops of rain on Cameron, but not even enough to wet the ground. The same cloud cover dropped rains measured up to 1.1 inches in the Northwest corner of Milam County.

Moore said farmers in this area are concerned about moisture conditions, but if rain comes within the next two weeks, they will be in time for grain sorghum planting.

The nearly six-months drouth that has plagued parts of Texas, including Milam, has also been aggravated by strong, drying winds.

The 1.53 inch total rainfall for this year is a far cry from the 10.91 total for Cameron measured by March 10 last year.

The last "good rain" was Oct. 23, 1970, when 2.75 was measured. In November and December, only 1.04 was measured by the official Water Dept. gauge.

POLICE RECOVER STOLEN GOODS

City police recovered goods stolen in two separate cases this week and reported the arrest of three local men in connection with one case.

The men are in city jail charged with petty theft. Police Chief Felipe Martinez said they are charged in the theft of five large cast iron pots from yards in Cameron. The pots were reported stolen from yards on S. Nolan, S. Rusk, S. Austin, W. 12th, and W. Batte Streets.

Three of the pots were recovered in Rosebud where they had been sold for $6 each. Two pots were thrown in Little River. Chief Martinez said an attempt would be made Wednesday to recover those pots.

The other theft was reported at Garcia's Place on S. College Saturday night. Cases of beer, cue sticks and balls, and a radio were stolen.

Chief Martinez and Officer Ken Butler found 2 1/2 cases of beer and the pool equipment in a vacant house on S. Austin St. Tuesday. Martinez said he and Butler conducted a search of vacant buildings in the area.

The radio is still missing, and police are searching for the thief or thieves.

Community Center...

The handsome new Community Center on West Sixth St. is in need of activity.

And if activity comes as it should, it needs a part-time director.

The facility is a natural for club functions, small receptions, entertainments of various groups. It is about 4,000 square feet less office space for the Cameron Housing Authority offices.

It would be an advantage to seek support from organizations that regularly meet, which do not have a meeting place or headquarters of their own.

That might be a lot more organizations than we think. This facility is worthy of support, at least as much as organizations said, before it was built, they would give it.

The Milam Census...

Milam census figures, as anticipated by the preliminaries, are down 10 percent.

Practically all of this loss is rural or in the case of Cameron loss, minority. During the decade past, Cameron District school officials note a decrease in Negro scholastics in the approximate 300 square mile area.

Cameron's loss would have been a gain with housing. The rural loss in Milam County was an inevitable bottoming out of change in farm family structure.

Those farms remaining either are large enough to produce volume crops or they are a home place where the breadwinner works parttime and somewhere else fulltime.

Burleson and Robertson Counties both reflected similar 10 percent losses, but they had less population to lose.

With industry in Rockdale, small plants and downtown reconstruction in Cameron, urban Milam County should grow during the 1970s. The rural part of Thorndale, Milano, Buckholts and open country may break even, at best, but could continue to lose as residents gain interest in more advantages of the city.

These figures are only part of the population story. Income for low-income residents doubled during the 1960s. This was likely the biggest change in the economic picture in Milam County.

Though our numbers are less, the quality of life in Milam County, by statistic, is definitely on the upsurge and improvements made in 1970 and those due in 1971 and 1972 will add to the attraction of Cameron and Milam County.

Committee To Lead Fight Against Income Taxation

By Vern Sanford

A blue-ribbon committee has been formed to lead the fight against income taxation.

Midland attorney Tom Sealy resigned from the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System to devote full time to directing the work of the state-wide group.

Texas Association of Taxpayers started with an advisory committee of 300 prominent citizens. Sealy announced that a membership drive is getting under way.

"Our purpose is not obstruction, but rather an honest and open effort to help the Legislature develop a reasonable tax program and undertake whatever economies are possible in order to resolve this situation in the regular session," Sealy said. "We are united on one broad principle -- that this should be done within the present tax structure and without enactment of either a personal income tax or a corporate income tax."

T.A.T. notes that business pays 34 per cent of the present sales tax and that 18 per cent of all state revenues come from natural resource taxes which many states do not levy.

Our organization, says Sealy, feels that "this is no time to strap income taxes on the people" in view of unemployment and the shape of the economy.

Special participating policies drew close attention and were termed "unfair, inequitable, misleading and deceptive."

Tough rules drafted earlier by a Board attorney were discarded in favor of uniform regulations recommended by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners. Insurancemen favored the latter.

Ads must disclose the waiting period that is necessary before the effective date of the policy, any illnesses not covered and whether benefits listed require more than one policy for full coverage.

When existing ailments are not covered, the ad cannot imply that one's medical history does not affect the policy or the claim payment. Use of the phrase "no medical examination required" is thus limited.

Board plans to enforce these rules by cease and desist orders. Companies which ignore the order can be fined or have their license revoked.

TEXAS RATES LOW

Texas was ranked in the bottom quarter of states in a federal evaluation of compliance with federal highway safety standards.

AG OPINIONS

School districts are not authorized to place certified administrative staff personnel on a foundation school program roster in utilization of classroom teacher units allotments unless they meet the definition of "classroom teacher." Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held.

Ruling by Martin also clarified the pay grade classifications of superintendents and principals.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

* Amendments to the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act which would permit employers of one to three persons and non-profit organizations to pay lower taxes than other newly-covered firms are valid.

* Harris County road law authorized transfer of responsibility for operation and maintenance of Washburn Tunnel and Harris County ferries to only the commissioner in whose precinct they are located.

Martin advised consumers that merchants are not required by law to take back merchandise returned by customers who have simply changed their minds about wanting it. Stores, he said, are liable for defective merchandise.

It will argue a corporate income tax is "simply the forerunner of personal income tax."

Meanwhile, the House-passed $492.5 tax bill, made up largely of sales levy increases, arrived in the Senate without a sponsor. It was referred to the State Affairs Committee.

Sen. W. T. Moore of Bryan, chairman of the State Affairs Committee, indicated that he will not lend his name to the bill and that he is in no hurry to schedule hearings.

AD RULES SET

Advertising regulations for health insurance companies to follow have been drafted by the State Insurance Board, to take effect April 1.

Companies are instructed to stick strictly to the truth and to close loopholes that might deprive the policyholder of coverage.

Gov. Preston Smith in a letter to Transportation Secretary John Volpe protested the rating and said that Texas' efforts to comply have been "misjudged or ignored." He said the Legislature is now considering all aspects necessary to compliance.

National rating is based on such things as motor vehicle inspection and registration, licensing, codes and statutes, traffic courts, driver education, emergency medical services, highway design, construction and maintenance and alcoholic beverages in relation to highway safety.

In a special message to the Legislature, Smith asked for an end to the misdemeanor probation for drunk drivers.

COURTS SPEAK

Supreme Court in a Montgomery County school bond election case held one must render property (real or personal) for taxation to be eligible to vote in such elections.

High Court, in a seven-to-two verdict, reversed the lower courts in a Reeves County case and concluded that a rancher does not have legal title to 160 acres of land even though he maintained fences for more than 10 years and kept his cattle there.

Supreme Court declined to hear arguments over whether two socialist candidates should be placed on Austin's city election ballot. Two refused to sign state loyalty oaths.

A malpractice case involving a worker's injury was ordered sent back by the Supreme Court for re-trial in Galveston.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin announced filing of anti-trust action in the federal court of Dallas, alleging conspiracy by major auto manufacturers to suppress air pollution control equipment.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

One of those serious columnists had a column in this newspaper I found out here yesterday expressing righteous indignation over some people who were feeling sorry for the million high-priced white-collar workers who have been layed off recently.

"Why," he asked, "should you feel sorry for them? Here's a man who's been making $40,000 a year or more, he gets layed off, and immediately has to draw unemployment compensation because he hasn't got a cent in the bank and has a big mortgage on his home and three cars. Why hadn't he been saving his money all along?"

That writer clearly doesn't understand modern-day economics.

Why would a man with three cars still owe on them? Because if he's paid cash he could have bought only one, what with payments on his boat and his $75,000 home and his trip to Europe and that means two other cars went un-bought, and you multiply that by a million and you've reduced the national car output by 2 million, and you figure up how much the economy would lose by not making those 2 million cars, counting all the people and materials it takes to make them plus all the gas and oil and tires and repairs it takes to keep them moving, plus all the work to build and maintain the highways it takes to run them on, and you can see what trouble this country would be in.

It's all right for some people to save their money, looks like there's no way to stop it, but if everybody did, if everybody waited till he could pay cash for everything he bought, no telling what would happen to the economy.

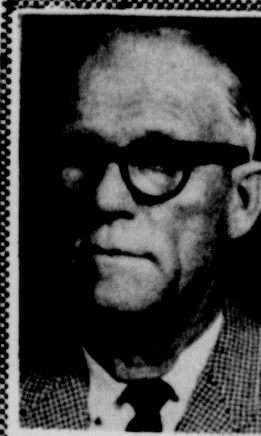

Outside of groceries, I don't know of anything that's bought with cash these days. You'd be surprised at how many Cadillacs are bought on the installment plan. Most daily newspapers are bought by the month, and a lot of them by the day. You name it, television sets, cars, clothes, washing machines, air conditioners, political offices, everything these days is bought on time with borrowed money.

It used to be said, "getting and spending, we lay waste our lives," but you let enough people get and not spend and see what happens. The only reason I haven't been doing my part to keep the economy humming is that nobody has given me a $40,000-a-year job to fire me from.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

PASSENGER TRAINS GET FRESH START MAY 1

REP. RICHARD G. SHOUP (Mont.) "Mr. Donald E. Deuster of the U.S. Department of Transportation, Office of Congressional Relations attended a convention of the Montana Chamber of Commerce in Helena, Mont. "Mr. Deuster's remarks concerning the new rail passenger law were so well received that I believe it only fitting that they be included in the Congressional Record." (Excerpts follow.)

"Last year, as you know, our Congress made a great historic and truly bi-partisan decision to save the vanishing American passenger train. And, after an extended legislative struggle, President Nixon put his signature to Public Law 91-518 on October 30, 1970."

"Very simply, the law creates a new semi-public Corporation which will begin operating basic national system of passenger trains on May 1, 1971. On that date, responsibility for operating passenger trains in America will be transferred from the private railroad companies to a new National Railroad Passenger Corporation."

"The Corporation is quasi-public which means half-public and half-private. The law states 'The Corporation shall be a 'for profit' corporation, the purpose of which shall be to provide intercity rail passenger service, employing innovative operating and marketing concepts so as to fully develop the potential of modern rail service."

"The law contemplates three sources of funds; One, the Federal Government; Two, the private railroad companies; and Three, private investors."

"To join the Corporation and be relieved of their passenger service obligations on May 1, 1971, the private railroads must make payments to the Corporation according to a formula in the law based on their passenger train deficits in the year 1969."

"When Secretary Volpe specified the end points and identified the possible routes for the Corporation, he considered a number of basic factors. Among them were: "Population--one or both of the terminal cities were to be major population centers of ONE MILLION."

"Existing Rail Facilities--whether track and facilities are in condition for rail service without major and immediate capital improvements."

"Profitability--whether the Corporation can operate the system as a whole on an economically sound basis with projected revenue and cost estimates indicating no substantial losses."

"As Secretary Volpe stated in his press conference... 'This is a beginning.'"

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

The full report is found in Vol. 117, No. 17 of the Congressional Record--J.C.

Barbed Humor

"Many a truth," says an old proverb, "is spoken in jest."

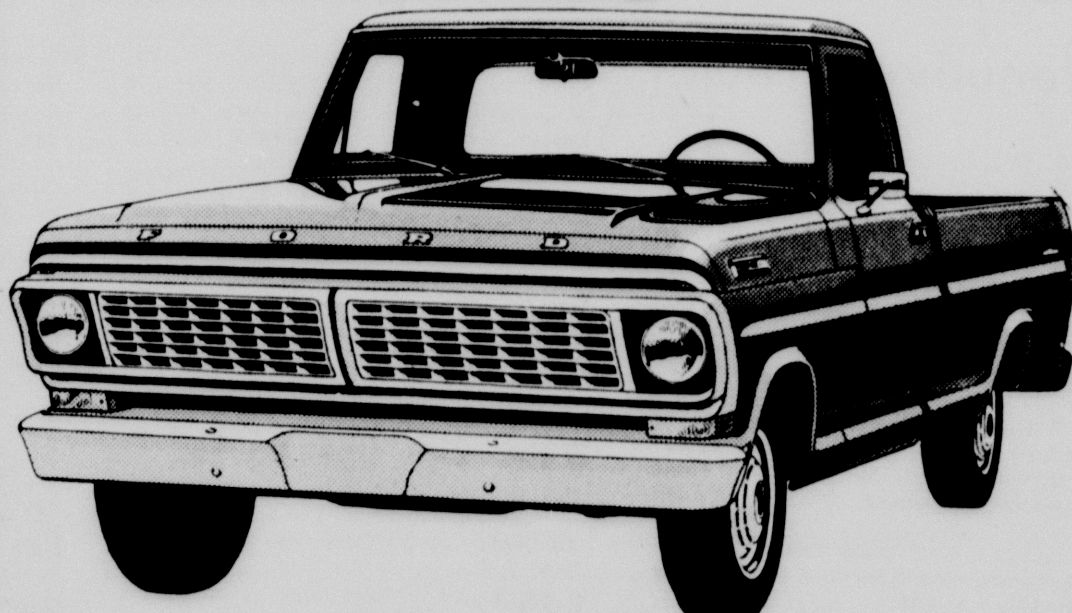

But what about a lie that is spoken in jest? Is a false statement excusable if the speaker is "only kidding?"

Consider the case of a television personality who, in the course of his patter, referred to one of his guests as "a member of the Mafia."

The remark got a big laugh from the audience, but the guest was not amused. Instead, he filed a defamation suit against his host, accusing him of soiling an innocent person's good name.

Nevertheless, a court turned down the guest's claim. The judge pointed out that the remark not only was intended to be funny but also was taken that way by the audience.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Bertram S. Brown, M.D., Director
National Institute of Mental Health

What Do We Mean By "Drugs?"

There is a good deal of confusion, misunderstanding, and misinformation prevalent about drugs these days, about "good" and "bad" drugs, and about their use and abuse.

It may be well, therefore, to take a look for a moment at the entire subject of drugs and what we mean when we speak of drugs.

A medical dictionary definition of the word, "drug," which comes from the old English, "dregge," tersely says that drug means "a substance used as a medicine."

Actually, this comes pretty close to what we mean when we apply the term to substances for treating mental illness, but further explanation is in order.

Nearly anything that man takes into his body—by swallowing, inhaling, injecting, or even receiving through his skin's pores—can be called a drug. Any chemical substance that affects living organisms is, in a sense, a drug.

Besides, a substance can be a "drug" at one time and something else at another. For example, a substance known as lithium has been used in industry in ceramics and metallurgy. However, owing to recent research, it is also now used in treating certain cases of mental illness.

To further add to the complex picture are the various uses of drugs for purposes that are not medical, but which may be religious (in some societies), poetic, aphrodisiac, and so on.

Then there are such things as the question of whether a drug is employed principally to affect the body or the mind. In the latter case, the drugs are often called psychoactive (mind affecting) drugs and form a major part of all the substances prescribed by physicians.

Appropriately prescribed and properly used, several kinds of psychoactive drugs can and do play an important role in the prevention and treatment of various mental illnesses.

Among the main classes of such drugs are the major and minor tranquilizers, anti-depression drugs, stimulative drugs, sedative drugs, hypnotic drugs, and, as mentioned, lithium carbonate.

It is important to stress that drugs can be and are beneficial for both mental and physical diseases. But it is also important to emphasize that drug abuse is a grave problem. The seriousness of this problem, from narcotics such as heroin to milder mind affecting drugs, can scarcely be over-emphasized.

Full, free information on all aspects of drug abuse is available from the National Clearinghouse on Drug Abuse Information, Box 1701, Washington, D.C. 20013.

Mental Illness Treatment

People want to know what mental illness is, what its past and present show, and what is going on in treatment and in programs to combat this major public and individual health enemy.

This we know from many thousands of inquiries, letters, phone calls, visits, and surveys and studies. To help in giving people this kind of information, we have recently published and updated a popular publication, "Mental Illness and Its Treatment."

First, it tells how mental illness used to be looked upon. On the walls of caves and on papyrus scrolls dating back thousands of years before Christ (for example the Ebers Papyrus of 1550 B.C.), there were troubled descriptions of mental illness.

The Ebers Papyrus had a line, "... his mind raves through something entering from above." This is taken to be illustrative of the early attribution of mental illness to evil spirits.

Today, we have a vast body of knowledge upon which to base attacks upon mental illness and, indeed, upon all of the problems of society.

For primitive man, just working his way out of living in caves, with all of the great discoveries still ahead that in themselves made the bridge between primitive and modern man (from the discovery of fire to creation of the wheel), it was not so easy.

The newly revised booklet tells the story of man's struggle to understand and cope with mental illness, from the "Bedlam" of terrors of early mental asylums (hospitals) for the insane, on through America's colonial times and up to the present.

"Mental Illness and Its Treatment" (Public Health Service Publication No. 1345, Revised 1970) is a 14-page booklet and is available for 15 cents a copy from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Garden Club Hears Of Poisonous Plants

The regular monthly meeting of the Civic Garden Club was held on Thursday, March 11 at the home of Mrs. John Sapp with all members present.

During the social hour the hostess served kolaches and coffee.

The program for the day entitled "Touch Me Not, Eat Me Not" was introduced by Mrs. Leo Fuchs and presented by Mrs. Sam Houston, a student nationally accredited flower show judge.

"Vegetation helps sustain life and we eat many plants and herbs in our daily diet, but," she cautioned, "we must be choosy in our selections. Some plants, trees or shrubs are potential killers of man. Some part of the ornamental plants or flowers in your yard may contain deadly poison."

As an example, Mrs. Houston named the oleander bush which is grown both in and out of doors, all over the country. It contains a deadly heart stimulant, similar to the drug digitalis. It is so powerful in this poison that a single leaf can kill a child.

Tejas Scouts To Hold Fair At Cameron

"The greatest all-boy show in Central Texas (the 1971 Tejas District Scout Fair) will demonstrate the Scouting program for everyone in Central Texas on Saturday, March 27, at the National Guard Armory in Cameron, from 3 to 8 p.m.," according to Tejas District Chairman G. J. Myers.

This major Pack, Troop, and Explorer Post event of the year will spotlight live advancement and activity programs of Scouting, as found in the Scout Handbooks, Myers explained.

"Packs, Troops, and Posts from every corner of our District will create, construct, and man their booths which will be designed to demonstrate their Scouting skills. And, each will be competing for top honors in various categories," Myers said.

"Tickets," according to Myers, "will be sold at the door for $1.00, and children under 12 years of age will be admitted free when accompanied by an adult. Everyone in Central Texas is invited to come and witness this Scouting spectacular."

Girl Scouts Hold Banquet

ROGERS The Girl Scout organization is on the boom in Rogers, with three live troops on the move.

The annual awards banquet was held in the Rogers public schools cafeteria Saturday night, with Mrs. Harley Doggett, troop organizer and consultant, in charge of the meeting.

Each family involved in Girl Scouting brought food for the banquet and the service was cafeteria style. Mrs. Doggett presented awards and gave recognition to various girls in the three troops.

Americanism

Liberty, as proclaimed by law and constitutions, can never have full meaning without the added ingredients of Fraternity and Brotherhood; without the spirit of friendliness and unselfishness... love for one's fellows. Those powerful qualifying attributes help spell out what Americanism is.

When one sees a family unit, parents and children, with Bibles in hand, attending church to worship as they please... then one is witnessing Liberty in its finest and most fullsome forms, for that, too, is American. Freedom of religious worship is equally important, along with economic freedom and freedom from oppression, in America. Then worship God as you please but be sure to worship... that is Americanism.

New Westinghouse Plant To Employ Up To 800

AUSTIN - Westinghouse Electric Corporation announced today it will build a large new plant in Round Rock employing up to 800 persons to build gas turbines.

The plant will be part of the company's small steam and gas turbine division, headquartered in Lester, Pa., near Philadelphia, and will double Westinghouse's manufacturing capability for gas turbines.

Stephen F. Miketic, general manager of the division, announced plans for the new multi-million-dollar plant at a press conference this morning. He said construction of the plant would begin in the spring of this year and that initial production would begin in early 1972.

Participating in the announcement were Gov. Preston Smith, Gordon Hurlbert, Westinghouse executive vice president power generation; Thomas H. Kenton, Westinghouse regional vice president; W. C. Milstead, president of the Austin Chamber of Commerce, and Dale Hester, mayor of Round Rock.

Westinghouse, a highly diversified corporation with headquarters in Pittsburgh, Pa., is one of the country's largest suppliers of equipment to the electric utility and industrial market. The corporation had total sales in excess of $4 billion in 1970.

Miketic said the Austin plant would be primarily a manufacturing facility, but would turn out a complete turbine, substantially duplicating manufacturing facilities at the company's present manufacturing location in Lester.

Westinghouse manufactures gas turbines in ratings of 17,000, 30,000 and 60,000 kilowatts, and recently announced development of a combined cycle steam and gas turbine plant rated at 260,000 kilowatts. This combined plant could supply all the residential electricity required in the Austin metropolitan area. Gas turbines are used primarily by electric utility companies to meet their peak and intermediate loads, and for a variety of industrial applications in paper and steel mills, petrochemical plants, oil refineries and numerous other industries.

The plant will be located on a 200-acre site on the west side of Route 35.

Miketic said the new plant will have numerous highly sophisticated machine tool operations, and utilize an internal climate control system necessary for the close tolerances required during the manufacture of the complex product.

The finished product produced at the plant will weigh as much as 240 tons and be as long as 80 feet. He said the plant will carry on three basic types of operation: the manufacture of rotors and major stationary parts for gas turbines; assembly of the turbines; and specialized servicing facilities for the products.

Miketic said that virtually all of the employees would be recruited locally. "In fact, we are bringing only a small number of management men to form the nucleus of a management team which will include local people."

"Basically, the new plant will be involved in heavy machine tool operations, assembly and test," he reported.

Council Releases Engineer From Contract

The city council meeting in regular session Tuesday evening approved the release of Walter Albritton and Associates from a contract for the firm's part in preparing the city's comprehensive plan.

Albritton met with the council, along with representatives of South-West Planners Inc., of Bryan, and Charles Englishbee, representing the Governor's Committee on Comprehensive Planning.

Discussion centered on Albritton's failure to fulfill his part of the plan according to the contract. He asked for an extension to complete needed reports, but it was noted that one extension had already been granted.

Albritton had about two years to prepare reports that were to be part of the city's master 20-year plan.

Mayor E. A. Perrin asked the council to accept Albritton's release. Albritton said the release was satisfactory to his firm, since they could not "possibly complete the reports in the time you give us."

In other business, council authorized Streets Supt. James Hale to offer bids on an asphalt distributing truck, and examine the possibility of purchase of a new garbage truck. The Mayor noted that brush hauling had been slowed by breakdowns in the city trucks.

Council awarded printing of tax notices and envelopes to Main Printing on a bid of $234.73, low bid of four submitted.

Council also awarded a bid to Anderle Lumber Co. for repairs to a house in Wilson-Ledbetter Park owned by the city.
